Anniversaries invariably evoke expectations. To set out a vision for India at 100 from where we are today at 75 is daunting, given the bewildering pace at which the world is changing. Yet, having spent most of my working life in the higher education space, I have learnt the value of the audacity of hope.

"establishing lasting peace is the work of education; all politics can do is to keep us out of war". The need for education to play an effective role in nurturing "cultures of peace" is internationally acknowledged. Change, complexity, fragility and uncertainty define the world today, with Covid reminding us of the need for leveraging cooperation, collective action and an ethic of care for a sustainable planet. In multi-ethnic, multi-religious societies like India, which are fractured along the lines of class, caste, region, religion and gender, the transformative potential of education to play a peace-sustaining role faces challenges. Populism and jingoism the world over have deepened divisions, triggered sectarian violence and reinforced prejudices. Indian education must set itself the task to provide effective antidotes to the "militarisation" of the mind and proactively nurture the canvas of coexistence. Critical thinking, dialogue, civic participation, community engagement and non-violent action are integral to this moment. In 1995, UNESCO endorsed a declaration on the Integrated Framework of Action on Education for peace, human rights and democracy. It was the first international instrument that established the link between the practice of democracy and learning about diversity and "the wealth of cultural identities".

Education can provide the conceptual alphabets for a vocabulary of peace, only through the consistent interrogation of pedagogical frames that overtly — or even subliminally — transmit prejudice and intolerance. The implementation of the new National Curriculum Framework (NCF) must provide the context to not only mould "global citizens" but also "intelligent patriots" with the courage to hold up the mirror and question the shibboleths we live by. Critical thinking, beyond "proscribed texts" and "prescribed" curricula, is needed to propel education towards nourishing predispositions and an inclination for peace in societies. Education must be open to the not-always harmonious reverberations of learning. The pluriverse of the global Learning Commons can potentially arrest our cartographic anxieties and processes of "othering". Its sheer diversity can inure education from proselytising tendencies, sectarian impulses and partisan agendas.

HOSPITALITY SECTOR DEMANDS UNIFORM STATUS,CUT IN GST, LONG-TERM LOAN FACILITY

(HLM)

India's tourism and hospitality sectors, which have been currently witnessing a market recovery post the COVID-19 pandemic, are awaiting a slew of positive signs, including the implementation of a uniform status for the industry, rationalisation of GST, other reliefs and incentives, a more robust and efficient single window clearance mechanism and provisions for long-term loan, from Union Budget 2023-24.

The industry associations have demanded uniform GST at 12% across all hotel categories and room tariffs across the country and also a waiver in Minimum Alternate Tax for two years from April 2023 to March 2025. The hospitality industry has been demanding the government to provide it with a uniform industry status across the country to help the sector grow further, said Chander K. Baljee, Chairman & Managing Director, Royal Orchid & Regenta Hotels.

"We request the Finance Ministry to provide us with long-term loans. Internationally, hotel loans are 15 to 25 years, considering the huge gestation period. A similar structure should be implemented across the Indian hospitality industry and under such system hoteliers won't go through distress and the banks also won't encounter NPAs," suggested Mr. Baljee.

The sector's long-standing request for industry and infrastructure lending status, regardless of project cost, is first and foremost on industry's wish list, as it will help boost investment and incentivise hotel development, particularly in several off-beat leisure destinations and tier 2 and 3 cities across the country, as per Mandeep S. Lamba, President (South Asia), HVS ANAROCK. "Additionally, enhancing the ease of doing business in the sector through online single window clearances and lowering the GST rate on hotel tariffs are the much-awaited announcements that will aid the sector's growth momentum," Mr. Lamba added.

Vineet Verma, Director, Brigade Hospitality said, "The Hospitality and Tourism sector, which is gradually returning to pre-pandemic levels and beyond, could well do with a push from the government in the form of policy and incentives for the faster growth of the sector. While some measures have been rolled out, a lot more is

KERALA TOUTED TO BE THE NEXT DESTINATION WEDDING HAVEN

(HLM)

Coming close on the heels of its major recognition recently by clinching a spot on New York Times' list of 52 destinations for 2023, Kerala is now touted to be the next big place for destination weddings. In a bid to revamp its tourism strategy, Kerala Tourism is set to unleash new projects and events that will turn the state into an all-season destination.

In a tweet, the Twitter handle of Kerala Tourism noted, "You've found your suitable partner. Now discover God's Own Country, the suitable place for your destination wedding. Here, nature's wonderful backdrops will make the biggest day of your life so much more magical." The three projects – 'Destination Wedding Campaign – Airports Translites', 'Destination Wedding Campaign – Social media, Google search and Display ads', and 'Promotion of Destination Wedding Microsite' – are expected to focus on the state's rising popularity for destination weddings.

"Kerala has huge potential to emerge as an ideal wedding destination and it is going to be a major segment of our tourism.

This is why the State Tourism Department is going ahead with a massive marketing campaign to position the state as an ideal Wedding Destination", said Tourism Minister Shri P A Mohamed Riyas in a press statement available on keralatourism.org. While under the 'Destination Wedding Campaign – Airports Translites' project, attractive digital display screens highlighting the state's attractions will be installed at the country's five major airports – Delhi, Mumbai, Bengaluru, Hyderabad, and Ahmedabad, showcasing Kerala's strengths as a charming wedding destination before global travellers; under the 'Destination Wedding

KERALA TOURISM NOW TURNS TO HONEYMOONERS

Having been a destination for unforgettable family vacations for the longest time, the department now turns to honeymooners and soon-to-be-wed with its new and imaginative "Destination Wedding" campaign. The initiative leverages Kerala's undiluted beauty to promote it as a heavenly global wedding destination through evocative messaging across multiple digital media platforms.

In addition, the department is also looking forward to bolstering the celebrated and globally recognised Responsible Tourism Mission, which encourages visitors to experience a slice of village life while empowering the local community. The department is also committed to strengthening its other initiatives, such as caravan tourism (Keravan Kerala) and STREET (Sustainable, Tangible, Responsible, Ethnic Tourism). Even its recently launched "Destination Challenge" project focuses on developing immersive sustainable experiences across off-beat and less-popular destinations in the state.

These new initiatives ensure the spotlight shines bright on Kerala's countless wonders—beyond beaches, backwaters and hill stations. Elaborating more on this, Kerala Tourism Minister Shri Mohamed Riyas said, "We now want to transform the whole of Kerala into an interconnected tourist haven where visitors get plenty of choices and diverse experiences. All this will make a trip to Kerala a wholesome experience for visitors looking for diverse experiences, be it a stay in a houseboat or caravan, ecologically responsible adventure activities, or visits to heritage and cultural centres."

Even though the focus is on increasing Kerala's appeal among travellers, the department also plans to launch travel trade networking activities through trade fairs and organising B2B roadshows across cities such as Chandigarh, Jaipur, Lucknow, Ahmedabad, Chennai, Hyderabad, and Bangalore.

JAMMU & KASHMIR IS THE NEW TOURIST HOTSPOT POST PANDEMIC

(HLM)

"Agar firdaus bar roo-e zameen ast, Hameen ast-o Also, domestic is safer, cheaper and you don't need hameen ast-o hameen ast. (If there is a paradise on documents or visa, which makes it hassle-free and earth, it is this, it is this, it is this)," the beauty of Kashmir hence a preferred choice for many tourists. Earlier, can perhaps be best described by 13th century Indo-people who would make 2-3 international trips in a Persian Sufi poet-musician Amir Khusrau's couplet.

The tourism industry has experienced perhaps its all and dividing their trips accordingly. spokesperson. He added, "Bookings were closed, everything came to a standstill. Visa offices, airlines everything were closed. We suffered a lot because tickets were already issued, people had made advance bookings for tours and packages. Millions of rupees got blocked this way.

A big change has come regarding travel preferences among Indian tourists, all thanks to the Covid- 19 pandemic. People, who would earlier travel only international, have started exploring domestic destinations. Which destinations are currently the preferred choices among Indian tourists?

"People nowadays mostly prefer open areas like the beaches and forests. They are booking resorts, villas and homestays which are open and spacious as compared to enclosed spaces like hotels, which allow them to breathe and move around freely. Hills have always been popular; they are getting even more popular now even in winter months. However, the place which steals the show is Jammu & Kashmir. Bookings for J&K are selling like hot cakes! Tourists, who have been to Switzerland but never explored in India, are also rushing to J&K," Anil Punjabi told The CSR Journal.

Explaining why domestic tourism is gaining popularity in India, Mr Punjabi revealed, "It started with tourists being forced to travel domestic just after the second wave, but now they are happy to travel inside India.

JAMMU & KASHMIR TOURISTS' HOT CAKE

(HLM)

This started in 2020 and went on till at least 15-18 months. During that time, we held on to our offices and staff as much as possible. Then we started a chartered flights ambulance service just to survive and serve those in crisis."

Selling domestic to survive

"Gradually when India's borders started opening, we started selling domestic tourism, which we were not doing pre-covid, because our focus is mainly on international tourism. The way people started rushing to destinations, it seemed as if they are taking a revenge on the condition they have been in for the last few months. They just wanted to go out anyhow," Mr Punjabi expressed with a smile.

Travelling out of panic

With the apprehension of international travel stopping once again and rumours of lockdown doing the rounds on social media, many people are booking holidays out of panic. "With lockdown rumours in the air, some people are rushing to places like Thailand or Goa, with the apprehension that they might not be able to travel if there is a lockdown once again. But in reality, there is no lockdown coming at least in India and we need to understand that," expressed Mr Punjabi.

He also shared that there is absolutely no reason for Indians to panic at the moment. "We keep telling our travellers that there is nothing to panic if you follow the protocol like wearing mask, maintaining social distancing, sanitizing your hands etc. This is because rumours spread at a faster speed than what actually happens."

ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT KAZIRANGA NATIONAL PARK IN ASSAM

(HLM)

Kaziranga National Park, spread across Golaghat and Nagaon districts in Assam, is every wildlife and nature lover's dream destination and for plenty of reasons. The park, also a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is one of the very few original natural places in India. Undisturbed by human presence (encroachments), Kaziranga remains a great forest. Kaziranga National Park was first established in 1905 as a reserved forest.

Later, in 1974, it was declared a national park. Kaziranga became a Tiger Reserve in 2007. It is spread across Nagaon, Golaghat and Sonitpur in Assam. The park's headquarters is in Bokakhat in Golaghat district. However, the tourist centre is in Kohora, just 25 km from Bokakhat. Kaziranga National Park was inscribed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1985. It is also one of the last and very few unmodified natural areas not only in the Northeast but in the whole of India as well. It is the largest undisturbed area in the Brahmaputra Valley floodplains. One of the finest wildlife refuges in the world that it is, the park's efforts towards the conservation of the greater one-horned rhinoceros has put Assam on the world map.

The greater one-horned rhino, royal Bengal tiger, Indian wild buffalo, Indian elephant, and Eastern swamp deer or barasingha are collectively called the Big Five of Kaziranga National Park.

Nearest airports are at Guwahati, Jorhat and Dibrugarh. Jorhat is the best option because from here, the drive to Kohora (Kaziranga National Park) is relatively shorter. Golaghat, which is just 50 km from Kohora, is just 37 km from Jorhat Airport. The drive from Guwahati to Kohora is 192 km (4 - 5 hours); the drive from Dibrugarh to Kaziranga is approximately 251 km. The nearest railway head is Guwahati.

KAZIRANGA NATIONAL PARK AND TIGER RESERVE

(HLM)

All those who have thought Indian one-horned rhinoceros only existed in Jurassic-era, then a trip to Kaziranga is a must for them. One of the most sought after wildlife holiday destinations in India, Kaziranga National park's 430 square kilometer area sprinkled with elephant-grass meadows, swampy lagoons, and dense forests is home to more than 2200 Indian one-horned rhinoceros, approximately 2/3rd of their total world population. Formed in 1908 on the recommendation of Mary Curzon, the park is located in the edge of the Eastern Himalayan biodiversity hotspots – Golaghat and Nagaon district. In the year 1985, the park was declared as a World Heritage Site by UNESCO. It is said when Mary Curzon, the wife of the Viceroy of India – Lord Curzon of Kedleston, visited the park to see Indian one-horned rhinoceros; she wasn't able to find even one. Then she persuaded her husband to take urgent measures to protect the dwindling species which he did by initiating planning for their protection. After a series of meetings and documentations, the Kaziranga Proposed Reserve Forest was created with an area of 232 km² (90 sq mi) in 1905.

Along with the iconic Greater one-horned rhinoceros, the park is the breeding ground of elephants, wild water buffalo, and swamp deer. Over the time, the tiger population has also increased in Kaziranga, and that's the reason why Kaziranga was declared as Tiger Reserve in 2006. Also, the park is recognized as an Important Bird Area by BirdLife International for the conservation of avifaunal species. Birds like lesser white-fronted goose, ferruginous duck, Baer's pochard duck and lesser adjutant, greater adjutant, black-necked stork, and Asian Openbill stork specially migrate from the Central Asia during the winter season.

Undoubtedly, the park is known for its good population of animals but more than that its the wildlife conservation initiatives that take place in the park are more popular. With its amazing wildlife conservation activities, the park has successfully managed to grow the population of Greater one-horned rhinoceros, an endangered species.

Flora:

Due to the difference in altitude between the eastern and western areas of the park, here one can see mainly four types of vegetation' like alluvial inundated grasslands, alluvial savanna woodlands, tropical moist mixed deciduous forests, and tropical semi-evergreen forests.Kumbhi, Indian gooseberry, the cotton tree, and elephant Apple are amongst the famous trees that can be seen in the park. Also, a good variety of aquatic flora can be seen in lakes, ponds, and along the river shores.

Fauna:

The forest region of Kaziranga Park is home to world's largest population of Indian Rhinoceros. Other animals that can be seen in the elephant grass, marshland and dense tropical moist broadleaf forests of Kaziranga are Hoolock Gibbon, Tiger, Leopard, Indian Elephant, Sloth Bear, Wild water buffalo, swamp deer, etc.

With increase in tiger population every year, the government authorities declared Kaziranga as a Tiger Reserve in the year 2006. Also here one can find good number of migratory bird species from Central Asia.

Best Time to Visit

Kaziranga Park remain closed from 01 May till 31 Oct every year for the visitors. Therefore November to April is the best time to visit Kaziranga National Park.

Summer (April to May):

During this time of the year, the climate remains dry and windy; one can find animals around the water bodies.

Monsoon (June to September):

From June till September, the region receives heavy rain, approximately 2,220 millimeters (87 in); thus the climate remains hot and humid. The park remains closed from May to October due to warnings of Brahmaputra river floods.

Winter (November to February):

Perhaps the best time to visit the Kaziranga National Park as the climate is mild and dry. Chances of spotting rhinos are more in winter as the grass burn off and the background becomes clearer.

Safari Gate/Zones

Sprawling over an area of 430 sq km, the park alias the hotspot of diversity is split into four areas; each has its own distinguish feature regarding grasslands, the density of mammals & bird, land topography, terrains.

YAMI GAUTAM LOSES HER COOL AT PAPARAZZI

(HLM)

Yami Gautam was spotted visiting a salon on a Monday evening. She recently wrapped the shoot of her upcoming film lost. She was greeted by the paparazzi as she stepped out of the salon. However, the actress lost her cool when she heard someone shouting while the photographers rushed to click her pictures.

In the video that has surfaced online, Yami was seen wearing an oversized blue denim jacket and black trousers. But before posing for pictures, Yami asked the photographers who was shouting amongst them.

'Shout kaun kar raha tha pehle yeh batao,' Yami asked, to which the paparazzi responded saying, 'Mam koi bahar ka tha.' Yami again asked the same question for reassurance before finally obliging the paparazzi with photographs.

On the work front, Yami has a power-packed lineup with projects like Chor Nikal Ke Bhaga, OMG2 and Dhoom Dham among other unannounced projects. The actress has recently expressed her wish to do a biopic of the iconic and her favourite actress Madhubala.

Yami has worked in TV shows such as Chaand Ke Paar Chalo and Yeh Pyar Na Hoga Kam, and later was seen in movies such as Vicky Donor, Badlapur and Uri: The Surgical Strike. She was last seen in the social comedy Dasvi which premiered on Netflix and JioCinema in April.

ATHIYA SHETTY, KL RAHUL'S WEDDING PREPARATIONS IN FULL SWING, CRICKETER'S HOUSE GETS ADORNED WITH HANGING LIGHTS

(HLM)

Athiya Shetty and KL Rahul are all set to tie the knot on January 23 and their wedding preparations have already started in full swing. The cricketer's house has been adorned with hanging lights and it seems like the two families are gearing up for a big fat wedding. According to the reports, the wedding ceremonies of Athiya and Rahul will reportedly take place between January 21 and 23. The couple will exchange their wedding vows on January 23 at Suniel Shetty's farmhouse in Khandala, which is also currently being decorated. Several reports have suggested that Athiya and Rahul will have a low-key wedding, which will take place in the presence of their respective families and close friends. No one from the film industry is expected to attend the wedding except for the couple's close friends. KL Rahul, who did not get enough time to shop for the wedding, will now immerse himself into preparations and finalize his wedding outfits with Athiya. The couple are likely to get married in a traditional South Indian wedding. The sangeet ceremony is expected to take place on January 21. Athiya's close friend Akansha Ranjan will be organising the event. Though both the families are tight-lipped about the intimate details of the grand wedding, the preparations have been going on for a while now. Suniel Shetty had recently expressed his wish of seeing Athiya getting married, settled in life, having babies and living a happy life.

Athiya and Rahul met through a common friend and it is being said that they hit it off instantly with each other. They became close friends and soon their friendship turned into romance and now the couple are all set to culminate their relationship with marriage.

RADHIKA MERCHANT'S NEW MEHENDI PICS IN PINK LEHENGA ARE A LESSON FOR BRIDES-TO-BE

(HLM)

Anant Ambani's fiancee Radhika Merchant looked oh-so-gorgeous in a dreamy pink lehenga as she got her hands laden with mehendi reportedly during pre-engagement festivities. Several photos of the bride-to-be have surfaced on the internet, offering a glimpse of her glorious ethnic look.

Right from her floral lehenga and regal jewels to the beauteous floral-adorned braid hairstyle and minimal makeup, it all teamed really well and turned into a steal-worthy getting-ready lesson for brides-to-be.

What Radhika wore was a vibrant pink lehenga from the label Abu Jani and Sandeep Khosla. The fuchsia-pink expanse of her lehenga was brought to life with floral embroidery done using contrasting hues such as orange, green and blue.

Her ensemble comprised a matching blouse and a dupatta. She exuded elegance in abundance as she sat against a marigold-decorated setup and got her hands adorned with mehendi. PS: That elaborate mehendi design, featuring peacock-inspired elements and intricate patterns, totally calls for your attention.

Radhika's look was accentuated with rosy pink makeup, just done enough to enhance her natural glow. Defined brows, pink lips, black eyeliner and shimmering pink highlighter were her glam picks. Is that all?

Definitely not! Her floral-adorned hairdo complemented her outfit really well and was a perfect choice for the mehendi ceremony. The addition of Baby's Breath flowers added oodles of charm to her hairstyle.

CORPORATE BANKING & DIGITAL INDIA

Banking has been playing a pivotal role in trade business & with the ease of digital banking various channels are developed during last few years. GOVINDA TO LAUNCH HIS SON YASHvardhan GANESH ACHARYA'S DAUGHTER SOUNDARYA-

(HLM)

In an interview with Times of India, last year, Govinda's wife, Sunita Ahuja had revealed that her son Yashvardhan is gearing up for his Bollywood debut. "Yashvardhan's debut got delayed because of the lockdown. We are in talks with a few people about his launch. We want good production houses and a good story because it will be his first film. My son is preparing a lot for his debut. He is busy building his body, learning acting, dancing, and doing other things. We'll launch him soon." Well, it's happening now. Govinda has set the stage. The channels have been lit. The cake has been baked. Yashvardhan will make his first splash in B-town in a film called 'Aao Twist Karen' to be produced by Govinda. The director has been finalised but the name is still under the wraps; it is not even being whispered.

THINGS MARUTI SUZUKI JIMNY OFFERS THAT MAHINDRA THAR DOESN'T

(HLM)

Maruti Suzuki had introduced the new Thar 5-Door SUV in the market at the Auto Expo 2023 recently. The new Jimny has been introduced as an arch rival to the Mahindra Thar SUV which already has a huge fan base in the country. Prices for the new Jimny SUV haven't been announced yet but the company will rollout the same in the next few months. The new Jimny gets a 9-inch infotainment system screen which is larger than the 7-inch screen found on the Thar SUV. However, both the screens offer multiple functionalities including Android Auto & Apple CarPlay.

The new Jimny has been offered with tons of safety features as standard, including six airbags, on the other hand, the Thar sports only two front airbags in all variants. To add to this, Mahindra Thar has a four-star safety rating from GNCAP, while Jimny 5-Door is yet to be tested. The Jimny is offered with 5 Doors which provides an easy access to the second row unlike the Thar SUV.

More colour options: Jimny SUV has a larger range of colour options. It can be purchased in 5 solid colour options and two dual tone options (with Bluish Black roof). On the other hand, the Thar is only available for purchase in six solid colour options. One of the key highlights on the new Jimny include the use of LED projector headlamps with small DRLs. In addition, it also gets headlamp washers, while the Mahindra SUV only gets halogen headlamps.

The new Thar SUV gets a ground clearance of 226 mm which is larger than 210 mm of clearance offered on the Jimny 5-door SUV. The Thar is offered with two wheel sizes - R16 and R18 with 245/75 R16 and 255/65 R18 Tubeless All-Terrain Tyre, on the other hand, Jimny is available with smaller 195/80 R15 tyre size. Jimny is only available with 1,462 cc K15B petrol engine delivering 104 PS and 134 Nm of peak torque. However, the Thar SUV can be purchased in multiple engine options - 1,497 cc, 117 CRDe and 2184 cc mHawk 130 CRDe engine.

WHY LUXURY CARMAKERS WILL SEE QUICKER TRANSITION TO EVS

(HLM)

Adopting electric vehicles (EVs) is likely to be faster in the luxury vehicles segment because buyers are less price-sensitive and market leaders like Mercedes-Benz India and BMW India expect double-digit growth in this category.

While Mercedes-Benz India expects 25 per cent of its India sales to come from EVs in the next four years, BMW says it estimates around 10 per cent of sales to come from those in the near future.

Santosh Iyer, managing director and chief executive officer of Mercedes-Benz India, said: "An car segment will remain in the forefront of this EV adoption."

"We expect this penetration to grow faster in coming years. Conversion to EV will be faster in the luxury segment than in the rest of the industry," Iyer said.

Vikram Pawah, president, BMW Group India, pointed out the customer base for luxury cars had evolved in the last decade.

"Today climate neutrality unites people around the world; it touches our lives and mobilises us. Customers are now increasingly environment-conscious and want to make an active contribution to reducing carbon footprint. When product attributes are met with green solutions, there is an even more attractive proposition," he added.

Video streaming platforms are likely to offer 50-60% of the budgets to southern language content, with these programmes seeing much traction, accounting for 30% of OTT viewership, said industry experts. Films like RRR, Beast, and Jana Gana Mana were big hits on Netflix, and Amazon Prime Video saw high interest for its Tamil original Suzhal. Producers and executives also said the other advantage is southern originals are easy to put together as talent costs are not as high as Hindi content. It is estimated that 50% of overall subscription growth in 2022 came from the five markets down south.

"The audience's pivot to streaming platforms during covid has increased the appetite to consume content across channels. This has led to an increase in the adoption of viewing content across languages, whether with subtitles or dubbed versions. Further, the wide availability of dubbed versions enabled big-ticket south Indian productions to have resonance not only with Indian audiences but also with international viewers," Manish Kalra, chief business officer, ZEE5, India said. The platform has witnessed a 92% increase in watch time with Telugu content topping the charts, Kalra added. RRR (on ZEE5, Netflix and Disney+ Hotstar), Karthikeya 2, Valimai and Bimbisara were watched the most and thrillers such as Vilangu and Recce have been well received along with comedies like Aha Naa Pellanta as well as Hello World. RRR, in fact, was the most popular film from India on Netflix globally.

Within its first four weeks on the service, the film was viewed for over 73 million hours across the world with more than two-thirds of viewing coming from outside India. Vijay-starrer Beast featured in the weekly Top 10 in 13 countries on Netflix while Telugu film Shyam Singha Roy trended on the India Top 10 row for films for 9 weeks and in the Global Top 10 row for films for two weeks in 11 countries such as Bahrain, Bangladesh, Oman, Qatar, among others. Balkrishna Hari Singh, founder and CEO, Frenzi - a single window search and recommendation app for streaming content said apart from large, tentpole films, smaller southern titles have also broken out, with Jaya Jaya Jaya Hey, Love Today and Rorschach standing out as examples.

GOOGLE VS CCI: SC'S ORDER A WATERSHED MOMENT FOR INDIA'S DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION, SAY LOCAL FIRMS

(HLM)

Indian internet firms such as MapmyIndia and Indus OS have welcomed the Supreme Court's decision to reject Google's appeal against the Competition Commission of India (CCI)'s Android antitrust order, terming it as a watershed moment in the history of the country's digital transformation initiatives.

"Today marks one very critical step towards India breaking free from the digital slavery Google has perpetuated on Indians for the last 15 years, and it is the right moment for all Indians - consumers, media, app developers, OEMs, industry and government - to come together to create the our own indigenous Aatmanirbhar ecosystem that gives India its rightful place at the forefront of the world, independent of foreign big tech monopolies" said Rohan Verma, CEO of MapmyIndia, a local rival to Google Maps.

On January 19, the Supreme Court declined to stay Google's appeal against CCI's order that had directed the tech giant to modify its conduct towards smartphone makers through a range of corrective measures besides imposing a penalty of Rs 1,338 crore for exploiting its dominant position in Android in October 2022.

However, the apex court has given another week to comply with the CCI order. It also asked the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) to dispose of the case by March 31.

Rakesh Deshmukh, the co-founder of home-grown application and content discovery platform Indus OS, that is now owned by PhonePe, said this decision will "usher in a cataclysmic change" in the Indian smartphone ecosystem and further improve digital penetration in our country. Both the executives said the move will enable Indian consumers to use indigenous products in areas such as digital mapping and app marketplaces, which they claim is better equipped to meet the preferences of users in the country.

Naval Chopra, Partner, Competition Law Practice at Shardul Amarchand Mangaldas & Co mentioned that this was a "landmark decision in the history of competition law jurisprudence in India and globally".

DOES THE INDIA ART FAIR 2023 MARK A CULTURAL REBIRTH FOR THE INDIAN ART SCENE?

(HLM)

India Art Fair 2023 debuts a fusion of art and technology, straddling modern and contemporary in India's capital through installations, talks, and performance art. Southeast Asian countries, among them the Indian subcontinent, have long struggled with establishing their mark on the art world. Despite a rich cultural and artistic heritage, a lack of tangible infrastructure and patronage of foreign agencies rather than governmental entities can be attributed to the art community's dismal state. Owing to these challenges, one is often left to wonder if the art communities in India are left to their own devices to raise the bar?

In 2023, though, it feels as though we are on the verge of a transition. A subtle but significant change is visible, with numerous autonomous places leading the cultural rebirth in the Indian capital and other significant metropolises. Add to that the expansion of the Indian art community via curated periodicals, journals, zines, and interactive events. number of suggestions and tips to make vada pav healthy and suitable for a weight loss diet. One of the biggest reasons why vada pav is calorie-heavy is that the aloo bonda is deep-fried. However, it can easily be air-fried without much hassle. "Don't deep fry the pav, rather just heat them up with little or negligible fat content," wrote the dietitian in the Instagram post.

She further shared a recipe for making a healthy air-fried bonda at home. Basically, the entire process was the same as usual aloo bonda, just that the consistency of the batter was kept smooth and thick so that it would not drip in the air fryer. She recommended cooking it at 390 degrees Fahrenheit or 200 degree Celsius for 12-14 minutes. The expert suggested using a besan batter for frying the bonda. FROM DRESS CODE TO HOSTS, ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW

The most flamboyant fashion extravaganza – Met Gala – is all set to return, as is the norm, on the first Monday of May this year which falls on May 1. An important fundraiser event for the Costume Institute's annual exhibitions, publications and acquisition, the event at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York brings together a host of actors, singers, designers and models under one roof.

This year, the Met Gala is being organised in celebration of the Costume Institute's upcoming exhibition: "Karl Lagerfeld: A Line of Beauty". As the name suggests, it will pay homage to the prolific designer Karl Lagerfeld "It's a moment for all the esteemed guests to salute one of fashion's greats, and from our perspective, the theme has multiple, wondrous ways into it.

Lagerfeld, lest you forget, designed for a handful of houses—Balmain, Patou, Chloé, Fendi, Chanel, and his eponymous brand—so there's a rich trove of materials, eras, and aesthetics to mine for inspiration," the fashion publication wrote. It also listed three ways attendees can honour Karl with their costumes at the event.

"The first, most authentic approach would be to wear an archival look from one of the labels Lagerfeld led; the second would be to sport modern-day Chanel or Fendi, two houses on which Lagerfeld left an indelible impression; and the third—and perhaps most obvious?

To find a Choupette all your own and dress à la Lagerfeld."Popularly dubbed as the "Oscars of Fashion", the annual event will be co-chaired by Michaela Coel, Penélope Cruz, Roger Federer, Dua Lipa, and Anna Wintour.

Last year, it was hosted by Blake Lively, Ryan Reynolds, Regina King, and Lin-Manuel Miranda. This year, the Met Gala is being organised in celebration of the Costume Institute's upcoming exhibition: "Karl Lagerfeld: A Line of Beauty"

(HLM)

Walmart-owned digital payments app PhonePe on Thursday said it has raised USD 350 million at a valuation of USD 12 billion in a funding round led by private equity firm General Atlantic.

"Marquee Global and Indian investors are also participating in the round," PhonePe said in a statement adding the investment marks the first tranche of an up to USD 1 billion total fundraise that commenced in 2023. BRIDES BUY HALF OF ALL GOLD JEWELLERY SOLD IN INDIA SAYS WORLD GOLD COUNCIL REPORT

An Indian bride is worth her weight in gold. Hence it's no surprise that bridal jewellery accounts for half of all the jewellery sold in India, according to a World Gold Council report. Also, India is the second largest jewellery market in the world.

Jewellery for brides is chunkier and most pieces constitute 30-250 gm weightage, unlike the next two categories – daily wear which has lightweight pieces in the 5-30 gm range and account to 35-40% of the total sales.

Fashion jewellery, where pieces are even lighter at 5-20 gm of gold, have a 5-10% share.

FOREIGN PHARMA FIRMS PUSH FOR FAST-TRACKING OF NEW DRUG APPROVALS, EASE OF DOING BUSINESS

(HLM)

Multinational pharmaceutical companies in India have reached out to the government for fast-tracking regulatory clearances of new drugs and clinical trials saying this is crucial to facilitate more investment into the sector.

In an exclusive interaction with Moneycontrol, Vivek Sehgal, director general of the Organisation of Pharmaceutical Producers of India, a body of MNC pharma companies, said that the association is also in talks with the government on the establishment of a “meaningful and effective” intellectual property (IP) regime.

The senior OPPI executive said the industry expects the Budget 2023 to usher in a policy direction that facilitates more investment.

“There are a lot of fence sitters who want to see a more enabled ecosystem to bring in investments,” Sehgal stressed.

The OPPI over the past several months has been asking the government to implement rule 101 of the New Drugs and Clinical Trials Rules, 2019. This allows the Drugs Controller General of India (DCGI) to specify certain countries for considering waiver of local clinical trials for approval of new drugs but the list of the new countries is yet to be prepared.

Multinational drugmakers are seeking relaxation of norms that govern the launch of new medicines and clinical trials of drugs in India.

All you need to know about the latest TikTok trend — ‘damp drinking’

(HLM)

Social media is always abuzz with new health, beauty, and lifestyle-related trends. But it is always advised to follow them with utmost precaution as, more often than not, they are not backed by experts and could turn out to be potentially dangerous. However, the latest trend — ‘damp drinking’ — might just be the perfect way to begin the new year. Before we tell you why let’s find out what exactly ‘damp drinking’ entails. Simply put, it means taking a mindful approach to reducing alcohol consumption, without giving it up altogether. In other words, it means drinking alcohol in moderation, if giving it up completely is not possible or easy for you yet. Explaining the trend, a TikTok creator @hana.elson was quoted as saying by New York Post, damp lifestyle “is internalising the fact that drinking culture and your relationship with alcohol does not have to be black or white, all or nothing”.

“I’m not saying I’m sober, so please keep that in mind.” She shared that for her, a damp lifestyle started off by quitting hard alcohol and shots, but she “re-introduced hard alcohol only in a fun-drink format”. “I needed for me a way to understand that I didn’t have to either go to a bar and blackout or just stay home,” she said, adding that there’s a difference such as less than 45ml per week of 42 per cent alcohols, such as whiskey, vodka, gin, brandy etc, may not be harmful. So the key with alcohol is moderation.”

He shared that daily drinking, even if it is less than 60 ml, has been shown to worsen the alcohol-mediated liver injury, worsen non-alcohol fatty liver disease, and cause a plethora of metabolic disorders, ranging from impaired glucose control leading to diabetes, metabolic syndrome, cardiovascular disease and even cancers. “Especially, binge drinking, that is drinking occasionally but during each time drinking more than 6 drinks each, does more harm than drinking in moderation.” To gradually limit one’s alcohol intake, the expert recommended adding non-alcoholic drinks in between, drinking water in between, and limiting to 60 ml per occasion.

“Focusing on healthy habits such as gardening, joining laughing clubs, exercise, and art may help one get their minds off of the routine of drinking,” he said.

between “drinking to enjoy vs drinking to get drunk”. Backing the trend, Dr Dilip Gude, Senior Consultant Physician, Yashoda Hospitals, Hyderabad said, “It is clear that drinking daily is definitely harmful in the long term. Drinking in moderation,

(HLM)

Ram Charan's wife Upasana looked like a dreamy vision to behold in an exquisite ethnic ensemble in her new pictures that she posted on social media. The diva, who is expecting her first child with Ram Charan, took to Instagram to share photos of herself clad in an embellished outfit on the occasion of Makar Sankranti.

The mom-to-be glowed in a lilac wrap blouse, adorned with tiny pearls, sparkling accents and subtle fringes. The silhouette then flowed into a heavily-embroidered lehenga skirt, completely swathed in glimmering golden details and intricate floral embroidery.

The outfit that Upasana wore hails from couturier Tarun Tahiliani's eponymous label. She accentuated her look with a dainty necklace, a pair of earrings and a statement ring. She enhanced her natural glow with subtle makeup rounded off with beaming highlighter, nude lips, defined brows and shimmering eyelids.

Upasana also walked the Golden Globes red carpet with her hubby Ram Charan. The couple embraced their traditional roots and flaunted them with their sartorial picks at the international event.

While Ram Charan looked dapper in a crisp black bandhgala, Upasana looked pretty in a traditional saree.

APPLE CEO TIM COOK BETS ON INDIA, OTHER EMERGING MARKETS FOR HIGHER SALES

(HLM)

Apple, which recorded sales of over $51 billion in its most recent quarter, saw record sales in South Asia and Latin America. On the other hand, sales fell in the Americas, Japan and China, contributing to an overall decline of about 3 percent.

"We're putting efforts in a number of these markets and really see, particularly given our low share and the dynamics of the demographics, a great opportunity for us in those markets," Cook said in his latest conference call.

India is particularly the focus of Apple. Cook said that India is at a tipping point and expected the market to grow.

"There are a lot of people coming into the middle class, and I really feel that India is at a tipping point, and it's great to be there," Cook said on the conference call.

The company recently opened its first two retail stores in India -- in Mumbai and Delhi.

According to the research firm Counterpoint, Apple was the second biggest revenue generating brand in India in 2022,

"I view that as a last resort and, so, mass layoffs is not something that we're talking about at this moment," he told CNBC in an interview.

second only to South Korea's Samsung.

The boom in used iPhone market is helping the US tech giant to enter more emerging economies like India. Sales of refurbished iPhones rose 16 percent globally in 2022. India, in particular, led the growth in iPhone reselling with a 19 percent jump in sales.

Meanwhile, Apple employees can breathe a sigh of relief. Cook has assured that layoffs will be the last resort for the company.

Cook added that the company is actually focusing on cutting costs and slowing down the pace of hiring.

While Apple did let go of some employees in April this year, it has avoided announcing any major layoffs. This is because the most-valuable company in the world avoided aggressive hiring during the Covid-19 pandemic.

THESE 3 GOLD SCHEMES IN INDIA TO INVEST

(HLM)

Several causes with worldwide repercussions affect the gold rate. Delhi is one of the largest consumers of gold in the country. India's demand for gold had risen to pre-pandemic levels and reached 191.7 tonnes in the third quarter of FY 2022–23, an increase of 14% annually, primarily due to high consumer interest. This reflects better-than-expected performance and strong consumer interest, helping year-to-date demand return to pre-COVID levels.

In value terms, the demand for gold increased by 19% to Rs 85,010 crore during the third quarter of 2022 compared to Rs 71,630 crore during the same period of 2021, according to a World Gold Council (WGC) report.

The gold rate currently is 5,345 in Delhi, Rs 5,350 in Bangalore, 5,328 in Mumbai, Rs 5,325 in Chennai, and in Kolkata 5,345 all for 22K per gram. The government has launched several programmes for investors who seek to make returns through gold in order to deter gold imports and reduce the trade imbalance. SGB Scheme was introduced in 2015 under Gold Monetisation Scheme.

These are government securities which are valued in grams of gold. They serve as alternatives to holding physical gold.

The issuance price for investors must be paid in cash, and the bonds must be redeemed in cash when they reach maturity. The SGB is a better option than keeping gold in physical form. Storage-related dangers and expenses are removed. There are also digital and Demat versions of gold bonds. They may also be used as loan collateral.
